CARUSO FOUND GUILTY AND FINED $10; TENOR NOT IN COURT; HE WILL APPEAL

FINANCIER SLAIN BY WIFE, WHO THEN SHOOT HERSELF

James H. Delaney, Former New Yorker with Business in Chicago, Found Dead with Bullet in Head, While Spouse Lay Lifeless Near Him.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—James H. Delaney, vice-president of the American Shipping Company, was today shot and killed by his wife, who immediately afterward committed suicide.

The tragedy occurred in the apartment occupied by the Delaneys at the home of Mrs. Cyrus Woods, No. 490 La Salle avenue. The couple had been in this city but a few weeks, having come from New York.

The details are not known accurately. Late today a servant forced an entrance into the apartment, after having made several previous efforts. The body of Delaney was found on the bed with a bullet wound in the back of the head.

The body of Mrs. Delaney was lying close by a bullet having been fired into her body through the mouth. The revolver was still in the hand of Mrs. Delaney when the room was entered.

The cause of the shooting is not known. Mrs. Woods, in whose house the tragedy took place, declared that Mr. and Mrs. Delaney had not quarreled to her knowledge and said that she knew of nothing that could have caused Mrs. Delaney to kill her husband and herself.

Other occupants of the house heard no shooting or disturbance in the Delaney apartment.

Delaney is said to be well known among business men in New York, where he had lived for the greater part of his life. In his clothing was found a card bearing the inscription, "J. H. Delaney, Vice-President of the American Shipping Company, No. 20 Broadway, New York." His name is also in the Chicago directory as vice-president of the American Shipping Company.

The only evidence showing that Mrs. Delaney killed her husband and then herself is the location of the wounds and the fact that the revolver was found in the hand of the woman.

James H. Delaney, who was shot and killed by his wife who afterward killed herself, in Chicago today, was president and treasurer of the American Shipping Company, which has a branch in this city. Mr. Delaney's home was in Chicago, but he frequently visited New York and was well known here. He started for Chicago after his last visit here, only ten days ago. The first news of the tragedy which reached his office here was from the press despatches from Chicago, and nobody at Mr. Delaney's office could throw any light on the affair.

Mr. Delaney was married eight years ago. The couple had no children. Until six months ago the Delaneys lived at Revere hall, an apartment house at No. 62 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street. The neighbors say that the couple frequently quarreled while they were tenants there.

In the early summer Delaney moved his headquarters to the Chicago office of the company, retaining the office of President. Business brought him frequently to the main offices at No. 29 Broadway. He was there last a few weeks ago.

At that time he was in apparent good spirits and made no mention of having any domestic troubles. He was a large, handsome man, about thirty years old, of genial manners and companionable nature.

The news of the tragedy was a great shock to his business associates.

It is reported that Mrs. Delaney's parents lived at No. 526 West Ninety-fifth street.

BOTH SIDES BITTER AS EXAMINATION IS ENDED.

Crowd Cheers and Hisses Lawyers in Summing Up the Testimony—Ex-Judge Dittenhoefer Denounces Motives of Police—man Cain.

Signor Enrico Caruso was found guilty this afternoon of insulting women in the Central Park monkey house and fined $10, the maximum penalty for the offense in the way of a fine.

Caruso was not in court when Magistrate Baker rendered his decision. The papers were filed, indorsed with three words: "Guilty. Fine $10." The Magistrate directed his clerk to notify Frederick W. Sperling, counsel for Caruso, of the decision and ask him to call at court and pay the fine.

Judge Dittenhoefer, when informed of the outcome of the case, announced that an appeal would be taken. This will take the form of a writ of certiorari directing a review of the case by the Court of Special Sessions.

Judge Dittenhoefer will seek to exclude the appeal because Caruso is alleged to sing at the Metropolitan Opera House next Wednesday night in "La Boheme." One of the scenes in this opera shows the tenor (Caruso) and the prima donna (Sperling) crawling around on their hands and knees in a dark room looking for matches with which to light a candle. The tenor accidentally touches the prima donna's hand.

Police Thank Magistrate.

Magistrate Baker was seen by an Evening World reporter after he had rendered his decision. On his way from the courthouse he was met and thanked by a dozen policemen.

"I decided the case on its merits," said the Magistrate. "Nothing guided me but the evidence. The position of the defendant was clear. I handed out as I would any ordinary disorderly conduct charge. I am perfectly willing that they should appeal on the evidence."

In the course of the examination I received many letters. None of them had any effect, however, on my judgment.

"It is reported," said the reporter, that you saw Hannah Graham, the defendant, and took her testimony in private.

"There is no truth in the report," replied the magistrate. "I did not see the woman and heard no evidence save what was produced in open court and has been printed in the newspapers."

Hannah Graham did not appear to corroborate the testimony of Policeman Cain. Deputy Police Commissioner Matthot, however, promised yesterday to produce her, made the following statement to the court.

"In justification of what I said last night about securing the testimony of Mrs. Graham I want to say that she has left the jurisdiction of the courts of this State because she feared the notoriety that would follow her appearance in this case."

"She has been asked within twenty-four hours to appear as a witness and has positively refused."

"I don't believe there is any such woman," exclaimed Judge Dittenhoefer, counsel for Caruso, "unless she is a confederate of Policeman Cain."

"She was forty miles from this city at 10 o'clock this morning," replied Commissioner Matthot. The woman is said to be in Connecticut.

Judge Dittenhoefer charged that Policeman Cain and Mrs. Graham were in a conspiracy to ruin Caruso.

Mr. Matthot asserted that she remained away from court because she feared the notoriety. She is not the Mary Ann Graham of the Bronx.

An attempt was made in court to show that a woman named Mrs. Morrison complained to a mounted policeman in Fifth Avenue last fall that Caruso had insulted her in an automobile. Mrs. Morrison, an elderly woman, was found this afternoon at No. 41 Washington Square South. She was washing of the alleged occurrence, although she has known Caruso for years.

Dittenhoefer Attacks Police.

Former Judge Dittenhoefer's argument was long and effective. He did not mince words in charging that the case was manufactured in order to work the ruin of Caruso, but he did not charge that there had been any attempt at blackmail.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH SAVING GRIP IN SUBWAY

Leaped from Platform to Recover Satchel in Front of Express.

Elmer Thurnham, a traveling salesman who lived at No. 45 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street, was fatally jammed between a subway express train and the One Hundred and Forty-ninth street station platform this afternoon and died on reaching Lebanon Hospital.

The man was waiting on the south-bound platform when he accidentally knocked his grip to the track below. Although a train was coming he jumped down and threw his grip to the platform, attempting to spring up after it.

The motor car caught and crushed him against the platform, crushing his skull and severing his right leg. Thurnham was so badly injured that he died on the way to the hospital. He was a well-known traveling salesman and was well liked by his friends.

Why do these people come here? asked the Commissioner. "Society to satisfy their beastly impulses. How could any respectable woman consent to face such a lot of curs as those who are hissing me now—some of them the sons of Stilly and of the Lazaretti of Napoli? I assure you, sir, that it has reached a stage when our wives and daughters and sisters cannot walk the streets of this city without subjecting themselves to the attacks and insults of curs such as these."

Thanks Policeman Cain.

"I beg of you not to permit the escape of such a wretch as this man. If you do the fact will be considered by his kind a license to continue to insult the women of this city. I want to say that Policeman Cain is entitled to the thanks of every honest man."

A man with a foot would dare arrest a woman with such a powerful back as this Caruso possesses unless he had a well-founded case? Remember, Your Honor, that the arrest was made in a public place before a crowd of people.

"Remember that this man has not dared to make a charge and that there was any attempt to extort blackmail from him. There has been nothing to show him. The arrest was not entirely regular. Cain had nothing to gain by making it."

"The evidence adduced shows this man to be one of the scum of the earth. What if he is the greatest tenor in the world? Does that entitle him to any extra consideration? On the contrary, it is a disgrace to the city that he should be here."

Caruso on the Stand.

Deputy Police Commissioner Matthot, who came on the stand to ask him, on one occasion, in Fifth Avenue, to testify that Caruso had been seen in an automobile with him, did not summon a mounted policeman and complain of improper conduct on his part. Magistrate Baker ruled the question out.

The crowd gathered to greet Caruso as he arrived today was much and enthusiastic. The child and the child's mother, who had been waiting for him, were the first to greet him. They were followed by a large number of other people, many of them, when they found out that he was coming, to the court room, adjourned to neighboring places of refreshment to await the conclusion of the case.

MILLER AGAIN THE STAR OF RACES AT BENNINGS

Up to Fifth Little Rider Had Piloted Three Winners and a Second, Being Beaten a Head in the Latter.

FRANK W. THORP: RACE TRACK BENNINGS, Nov. 23. Walter Miller was again the bright particular star of the day's racing at Bennings. Miller rode Oraculum in the first race and was only beaten a head. Then he brought home Aggie, a hot favorite in the second, and a hot favorite in the third, and in the fourth he delighted the piker by winning with Onatas from Lord of the Vale, a 2 to 5 favorite.

Onatas was as high as 6 to 1 because there were rumors that he was very lame and in bad shape. Onatas, however, underwent a mysterious preparation with a rub, and went to the post like a two-year-old.

Aggie won another race, going in his best form. He only beat Red Knight a length, and might have been beaten if Red Knight was away well. The latter closed up a big gap, finishing with a rub.

Zienah, a 10 to 1 shot, beat Oraculum in the opening event. The attendance was excellent and the racing was lively. The track was in splendid shape.

Landman All the Way.

Landman, favorite in the fifth race, went to the front at the start, made all the running and won easily by three lengths from Lee Harrison II, who was second all the way. He just beat Bright Boy three lengths and a head for the place. Addinette had no speed.
